Renee,
You don't even know how much I was jealous of you the first day I met you. (In discussion debate) Not meanly jealous just a little envious I guess. You're a super person with good looks, personality etc. You will have a super life I'm sure. Well, I'll see you next year (unless you move again) I'm sorry if this is weird but I'm really spaced today. Have a fun summer!

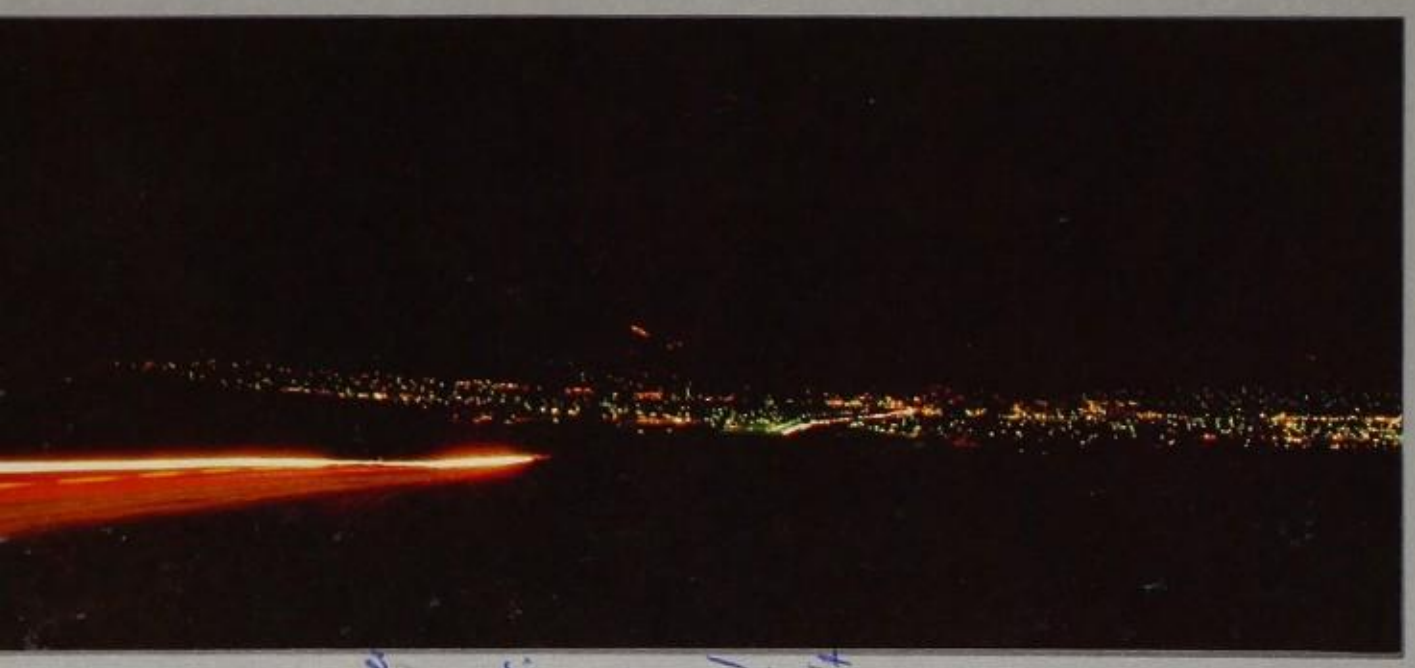
The sinners have much more fun.
Only the good die young.

Don't wait for answers;
just take your chances;
don't ask me why.



Hey Konee.
I'll always remember all the fun things we did. like Aspen that was the funnest time ever. that was damn fun, Except when I had to wait for you to.to. I want to go up next year, Maybe we can bring Mari. Remember all the times we went out and you tried to pickup other guys. Sweet huh? I hope you have a fun summer

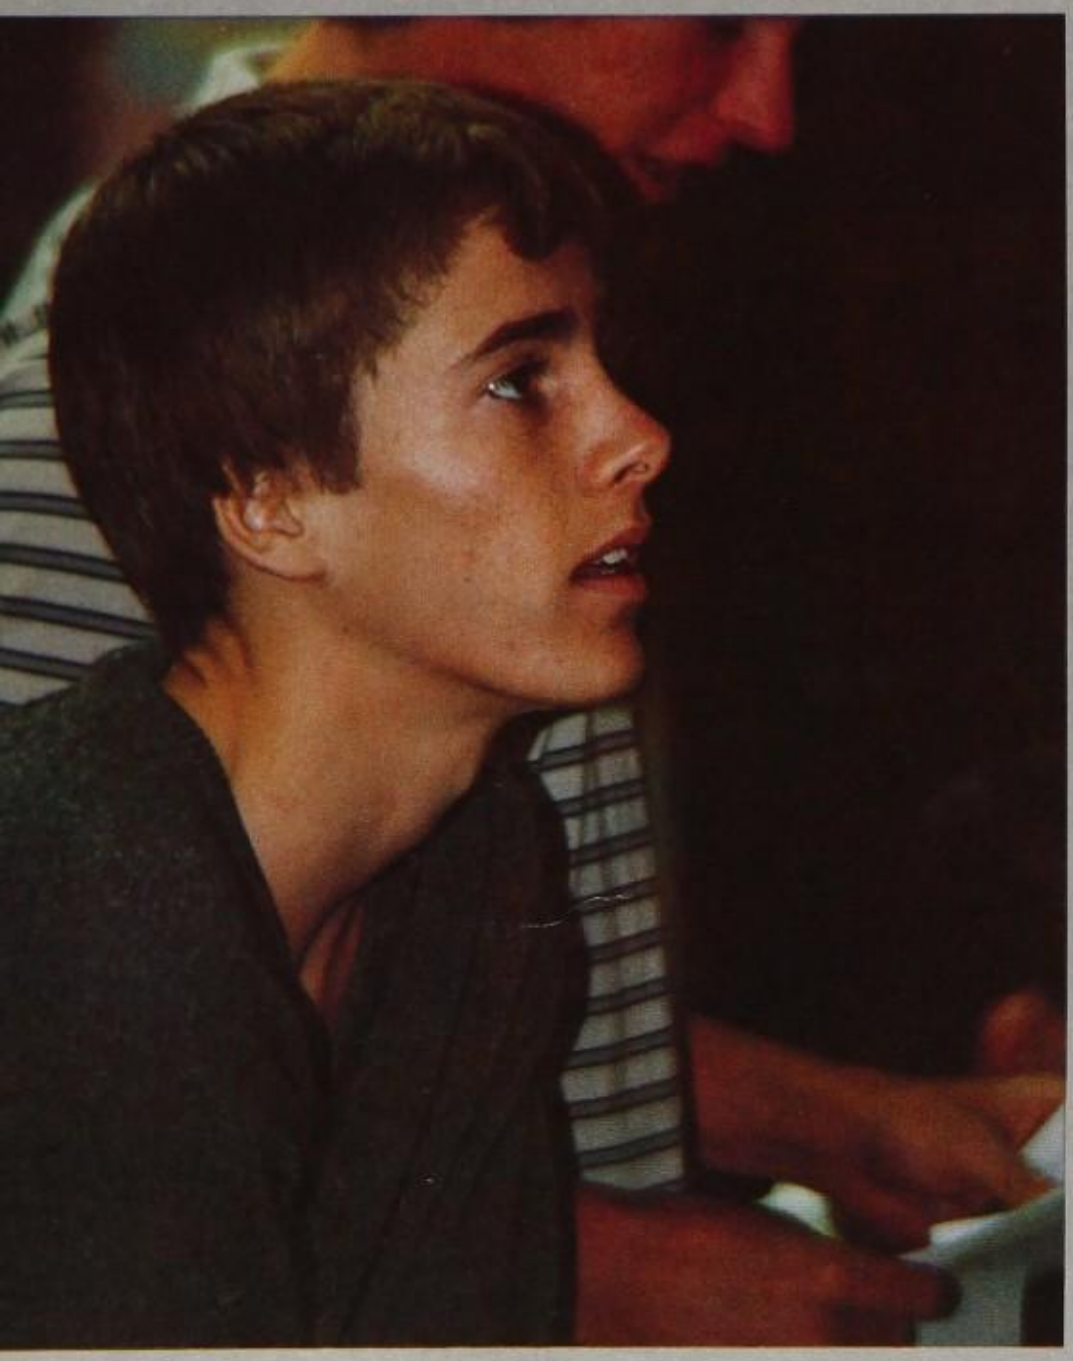
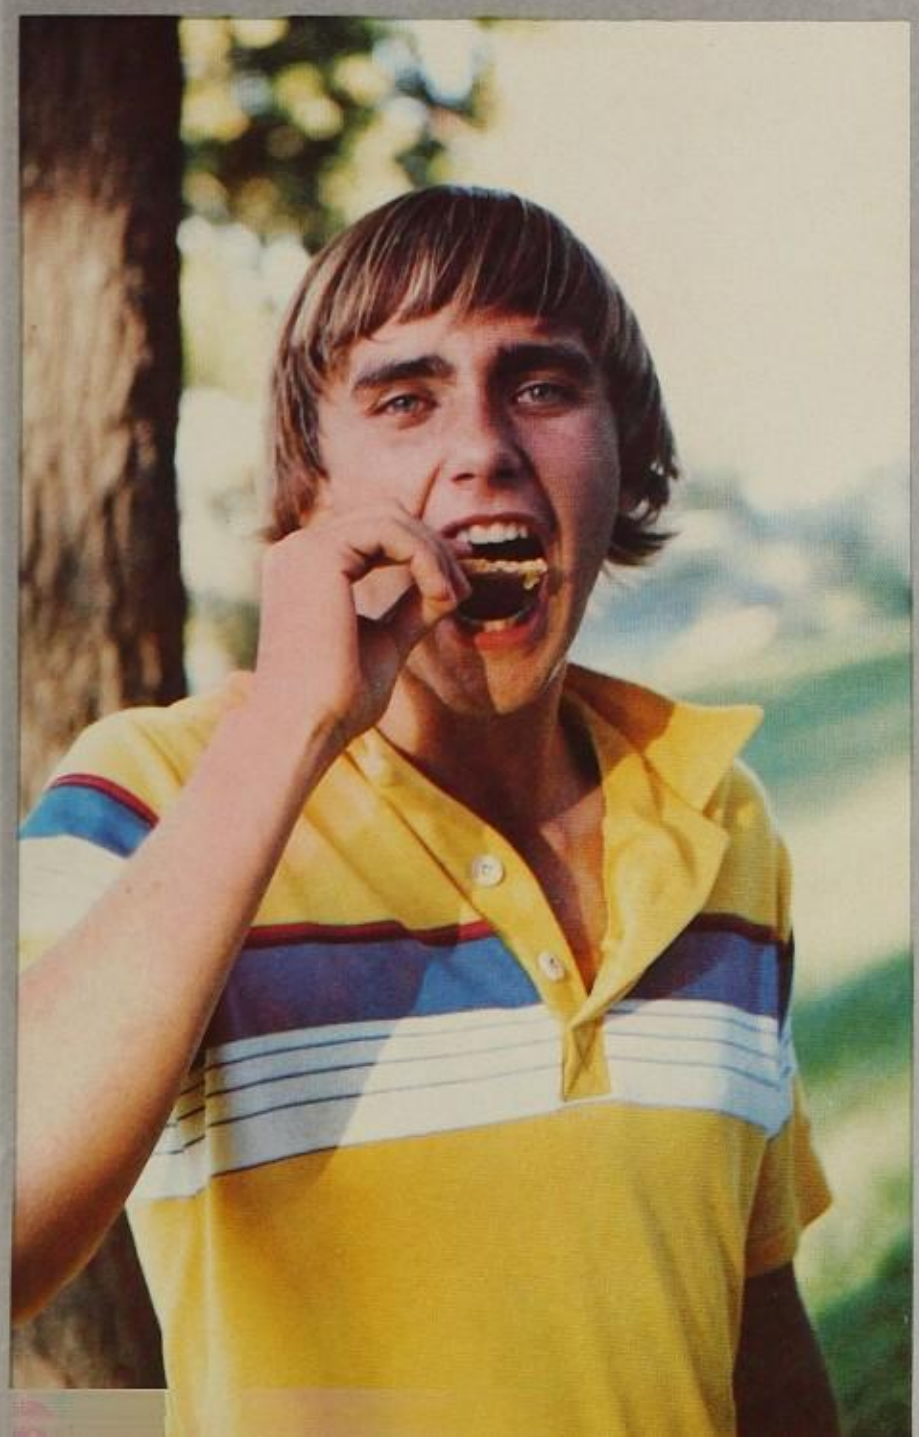
Life, so they say, is but a game and they let it slip away.
Love, like the autumn sun, should be drying but it's only just begun.
Like the twilight in the road ahead,
They don't see just where we're going.
And all the secrets in the universe whisper in our ears and all the years will come and go
And take us up, always up.

I've been beat up,
I've been thrown out,
but I'm not down; I'm not down.
I've been shown up,
But I've grown up,
And I'm not down; I'm not down.



KENEE -
Thank you for asking me to sign this. There are things that I have always wanted to tell and Its much easier to write than say. I really admire your ways - those that I see anyway. You are a beautiful girl and I would have enjoyed knowing you better.
Teresa Sharp



Some they do, some they don't,
Some you just can't tell;
Some they will, some they won't,
Some it's just as well.

I'm driving my life away,
looking for a better way,
for me. I'm driving my life away,
looking for a sunny day.

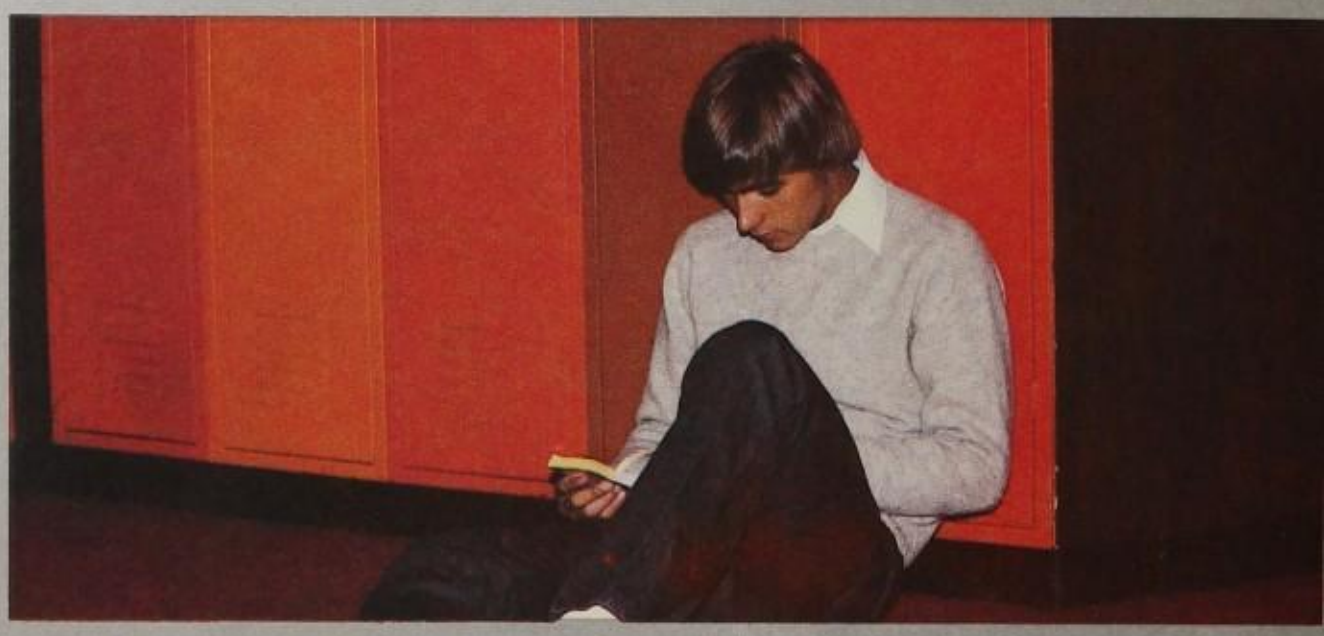
My Mazzarati does 185.
I lost my license; now I don't drive.

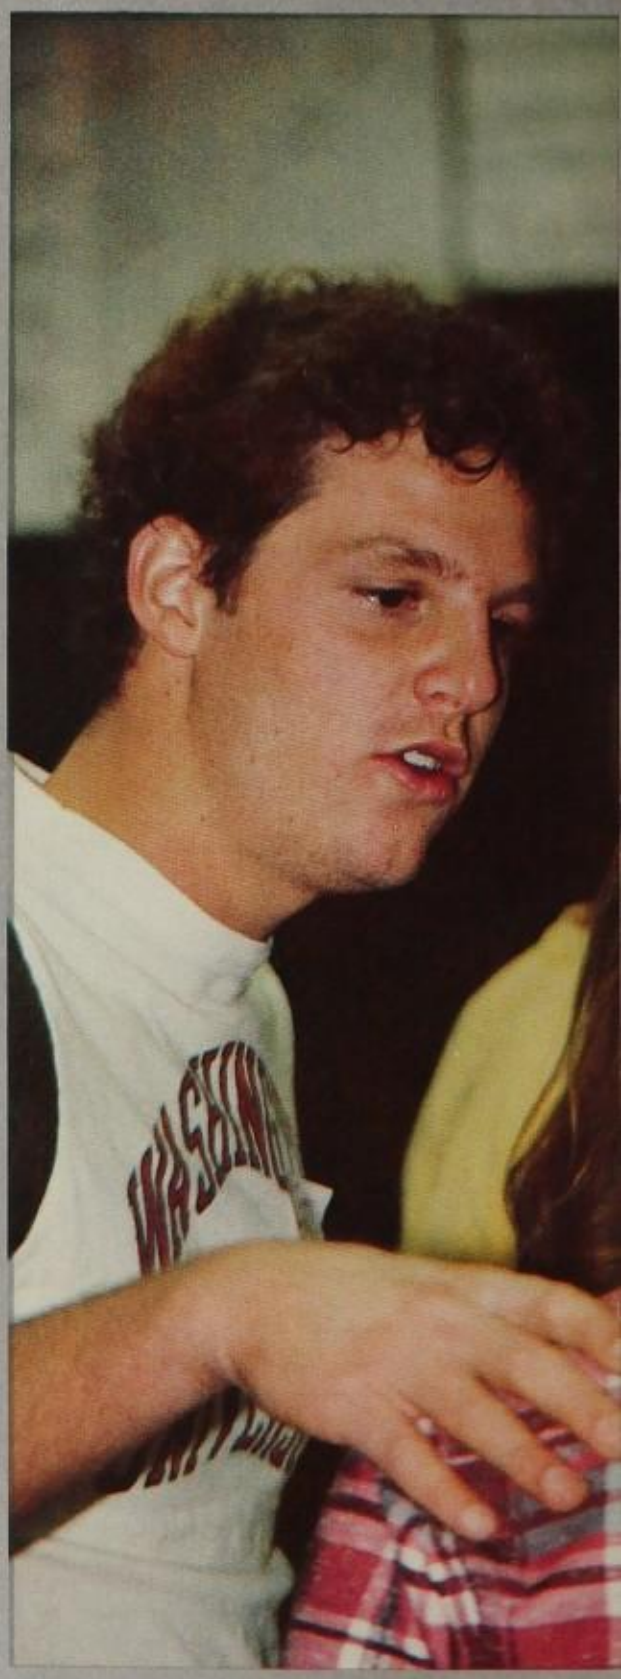
Renee;
I'm glad I got to know you. You're a nice girl and I know we had our differences but I still like you a lot and I hope you feel the same. I hope you come here next year but otherwise I hope you have a good time and a lot of friends. Maybe I'll see you this summer.

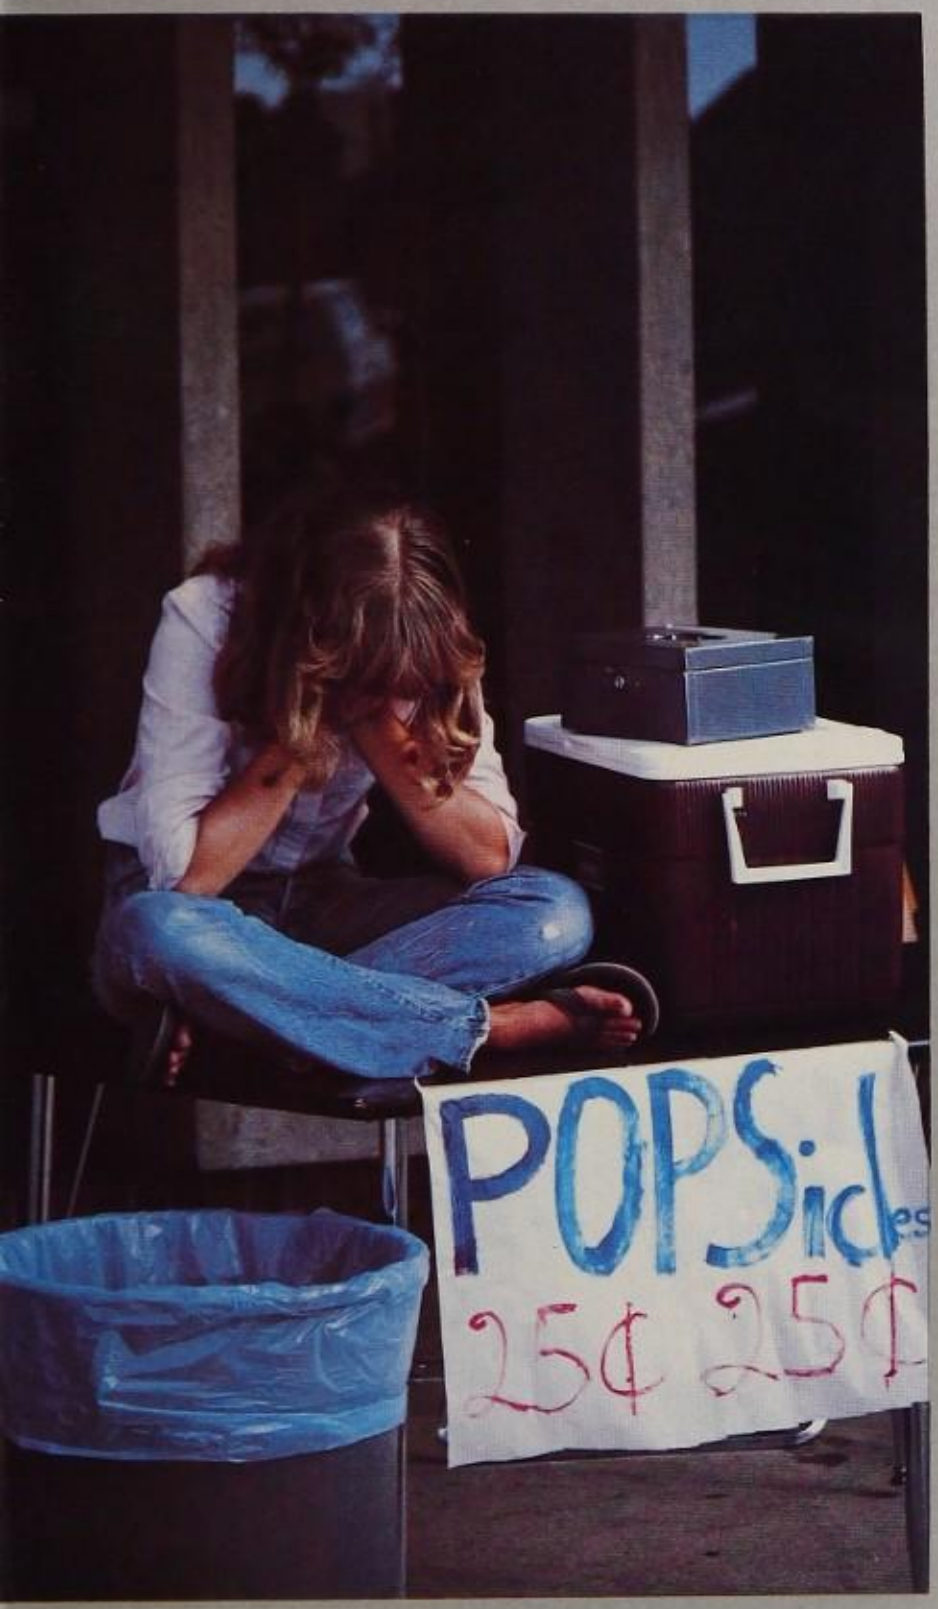
Love ya
Tim

P.S. If you're photographs aren't ready when I leave would like some pics.

Maybe I'm amazed at the way
you help me sing my song;
you right me when I'm wrong.
Maybe I'm amazed at the way
I really need you.







Ain't nothing in the whole world,
Make me feel so funny,
make me spend my money,
As a big eyed beautiful girl.

Renee,

Well, I'm all done with school, and you've got one more year to go. I hope your senior year will be as good as mine was. If you haven't taken Comp for college, take it with Higgins, it will be great, I guarantee. Old Testament was awesome, except sometimes you weren't there. I wish you the best of luck in whatever you do. Keep on smiling, it makes you real pretty.

In Memory

Edmund Joseph Violette possessed a quiet and constant good nature. Pleasant and kind, Joey seemed concerned about other's feelings, much more than his own.

This quiet nature fit a growing interest in photography and a deep love of the outdoors. His athletic abilities led Joe into many sports and to exceptional accomplishments in tennis. He won Boulder and state championships during many of the past years. He played with strength, grace and poise beyond his years. Even in competition, Joey was relaxed and pleasant, a generous sportsman with rare qualities, a tribute to his personality and to the family around him.

Joey will live in the memories of all of us who have shared his life.

BHS Slaughter Renews Knights

"The biggest obstacle we had to overcome this year was when Coach Anderson quit right before the Boulder High game," commented Tony Stermitz. But in true Knight fashion, the team pulled together and creamed Boulder High.

Having lost all their games before the coach quit, the Baby Knights rallied behind Coach Boatman and finished out the season with a 3-6 record.

The highlight of the season occurred when the team battled Smoky Hill down to the wire, only to lose in the final few seconds of the game. Outstanding performances were executed by Jeff Thulin and Mike Bynum.

Number One But No Trophy

Friday night excitment, big plays and lots of victories is what Fairview football is all about. And this year's team got off to a great start going 9-0 in the first nine games. Fairview faultered, though, in the tenth game when they faced a larger Smoky Hill team with an identical record. But the game loss was not as bad as the loss of Brian Price to an ankle fracture. Fairview then suffered a bitter, cold defeat at the hands of Lakewood in the first round of the playoffs. But all in all it was a fun season.

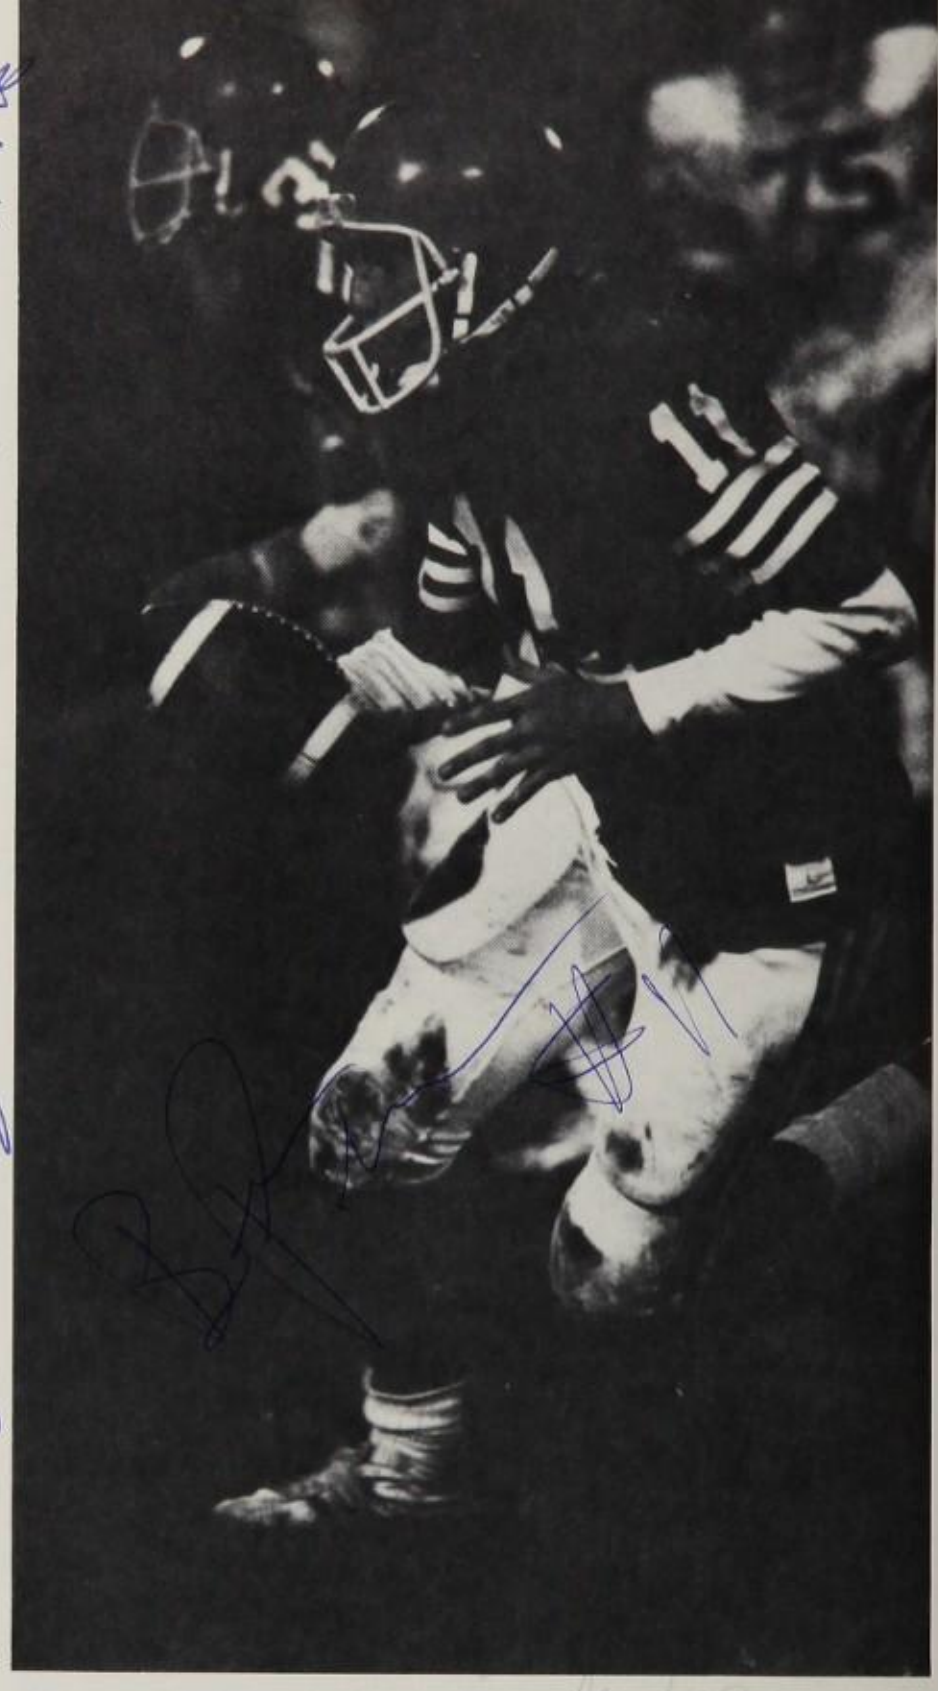
RENEE,
IT HAS BEEN LESS THAN A YEAR SINCE I FIRST MET YOU AND IN THAT TIME WE'VE HAD SOME GOOD TIMES AND BAD BUT RIGHT NOW ONLY THE GOOD STANDS OUT, YOU ARE AS GOOD A PERSON AS YOU ARE A PHOTOGRAPHER AND YOU'VE NEVER HEARD ME COMPLAIN ABOUT THAT. GOOD LUCK ALWAYS AND STAY BEAUTIFUL.



(1) #15 Scott Jeffers is in pursuit of six points. (2) #11 Brian Price heads for the end zone. Fairview Dams the Creek!

"We finally dammed the Creek," screamed hundreds of fans Halloween night as Fairview turned the jinx around and beat Cherry Creek after six frustrating years.

Third year starter Scott Jeffers began the excitement by running back a Creek punt for 77 yards all the way to the Bruin eight. The Knights were unable to come up with a score, so Creek took the ball and went 70 yards down the sidelines. But thanks to Tony Banks and his 4.5 speed, Creek was unable to see six. The key play came when Pete Benedetti found big play artist Brian Price for a 38-yard touchdown that put the Knights in the lead for good. Before the first half came to a close, Barry Remington "picked off a duck" and returned it to the Bruin 32.

In the second half the Knights played excellent defense by swarming the ball. John Boselli, Larry Ethridge, Ken Rutherford, and Paul D'Epagnier played significant roles the night we "dammed the Creek!"

Golden Football

"He's still a little brother," sighed Ken Rutherford as he sat back and watched Eric receive awards for his outstanding ability on the football field. Being a two-way starter on the FHS offensive and defensive front lines brought Eric all state awards. It was easy to see why colleges across the country showed so much interest in him. Along with his ability, his size was impressive; he stood 6'5" and weighed 225 lbs. His teammates said that they voted for him because along with being a good football player, Eric was an all-around good guy.

Soph Spikers Look Good

By the looks of this year's sophomore volleyball team, the Knights should be very competitive for the next few years. The nine-member team played above and beyond all expectations of theirs. These girls definitely deserved a tremendous amount of credit for a hang tough season. Fortunately, many of the girls on this team have had previous playing experience, which accounted for the togetherness and the great attitude that was displayed throughout the entire season. Thanks to the natural ability of many of the individuals, the team was able to salvage a very worthwhile season.

JV Players Are Second in League

Under the guidance of coach Jamie Kane, the junior varsity volleyball team had a sensational season with a 9-2 record this year. They placed a respectable second in the league. This year's team was certainly a youthful one, with few seniors.

The entire team worked hard throughout the season, attending the grueling early morning practices, and playing hard, tough games. Coach Kane could easily see that her returning team would next year be very promising.

(1) "This little piggy went to the market," quips Leslie Sayre. (2) Chris Heronema becomes "The Mad Crusher."

Varsity V-ball Serves Through

The girls' varsity volleyball team, under the guidance of Head Coach Kathy Jendrick, had a much improved year compared to last year's team. They finished with an 8-3 record. One of the highlights of the year was defeating Douglas County twice, which they have been inconsistant in doing in previous years.

GOLDEN VOLLEYBALL

"The Golden Volleyball award is not given every year," stated Kathy Jendrick, varsity volleyball coach. However, this year Nina Patterson, who had the skill, cooperated with the team, had spirit, strived to improve, and was a good student as well as a good athlete, received the Golden Volleyball award.

Nina also was a member of the varsity basketball team as well as one of the team captains. And as a three year varsity tennis player, Nina captured a second team all-league honor.

GOLDEN VOLLEYBALL

Miss Kathy Jendrick has been head coach of the varsity volleyball team for three years. Prior to that she was assistant coach for three years.

Miss Jendrick has been actively involved with Fairview since 1969. She started the girls' track program in the spring of 1970.

Coach Jendrick, having a Masters in sports medicine, and having worked as a trainer for the pro-volleyball team Seattle Smashers, is very qualified for her coaching position here at Fairview.

Other interests of Miss Jendrick are golf, music, dance, travel, and the outdoors.

Lady Gymnasts Almost Go State

This year's girls' gymnastics team was led by Barb Anderson, Lisa Martinez, Helen Vickery, Heidi Carey, and Laura Smith. The team finished 6th in league competition, after winning eight out of twelve meets. They missed qualifying for state by less than 4.0 points. Anderson and Martinez were the only qualifiers for state competition.

Other members of the team were Beth Krieger, Saiya Remmler, Kathy Whisler, Natalie Grosz, and Kelly Helvey.

GOLDEN GYMNAST

Senior gymnast Helen Vickery was this years' golden performer. She was considered the top senior all-round performer on the squad. Helen owned the highest all-round score on the team and was also a gold medal winner. Her lst place finishes in the tri-meets on the vault and bars were among several outstanding achievements during her career at FHS.

GOLDEN GYMNAST

This year's girls' gymnastics team was coached by Rob Candelaria. Candelaria attended Mitchell High School in Colorado Springs before coming to the University of Colorado. In 1972 he was an NCAA qualifier in the vault. Also at CU, he participated in the floor exercise and the parallel bars.

After a successful season in 1972, he tried out for the Olympic trials.

Before becoming the gymnastics coach at Fairview he coached two undefeated seasons for a YMCA team. All of this means he is fit for the job.

These Guys Can Really Swing

This year's 1980 version of Fairview golf was one of the most successful seasons George Hoos has ever coached.

The team was led by standout junior Jon Hoos.

Some of the noteworthy accomplishments were winning the Estes Park Invitational for the 4th year in a row. They finished 11th in State following 2nd place finishes in both league and district competition.

Girls' Team Captures State

The cross country team soared this season. The girls' cross country team was sensational in their autumn meets. They claimed their first state title by placing five girls in the top 30 finishers in state. Kathy Benson, the Centennial League champion, was the top runner on the team and finished 3rd in state. Other top runners were Kate Lepides, Tammy Erickson, Tarja Maattanen, Shauna Ponsford, and Kristen Boyd.

The boys' team, despite some excellent individual marks, did not fulfill expectations. However, Rob Serandos, Harold Dunn and Mike Kibler all broke the seventeen minute mark for the three mile. Other top runners included seniors Lon Abbott, John Bouffard, Barry Dugan and sophomore Dave Havlick.

Lady Tankers go to Springs

The swim team finished after having a dual meet season of 4-5-1, not bad for such a small team. Being part of the Centennial League, which usually has an average of 35 to 50 swimmers, Fairview's team had a total of twenty competitors, eight of which went to state.

Golden Swimming

"Working with Kate this year has been a truly pleasurable experience," explains coach Paul Boland. Kate's attitude and leadership contributed immensely to the success of the swimming team, as did her performances in conference and state. It was her record breaking performances that led the team to a 6th place finish in state.

Golden Swimming

Coach Paul Boland was this year's mentor of the girls' swimming team. Under his guidance, the lady tankers finished 6th in the state meet in Colorado Springs.

Boland, a 1965 graduate of Boulder High School, earned his B.S. in Physical Education and his B.A. in Political Science at the University of Colorado. He also was a member of the C.U. swim team. In the past he has had coaching experience at the Flatirons Country Club and the High Mar Recreation Association.

Boys' Tennis Comes Through

The tennis team this year turned out to be a rebuilding team. There were some promising newcomers to the team and a week before the first match the team was pretty well set. It looked as if we would have one of our better teams. Then one player was declared ineligible scholastically and a car accident claimed the life of sophomore Joe Violette (one of the top four players). This accident also injured one of the returning letterman, Jay Lewis. After juggling the lineup, the team rallied and finished with a winning season, sending three players to state.

Golden Tennis

This year's Golden Tennis award was given to Chris Meyers. Chris was an inspiring tennis player for the whole team, with significant wins. He showed strong perseverance, and a will to win.

Chris played in many reputable tournaments during the summer months. He spent his school hours studying and his free time playing tennis.

In order to work with the other players, Chris knew it took more than just being a good player. He proved to be a good winner and loser. Sportsmanship and a good attitude were both unique qualities that Chris Meyers exhibited.

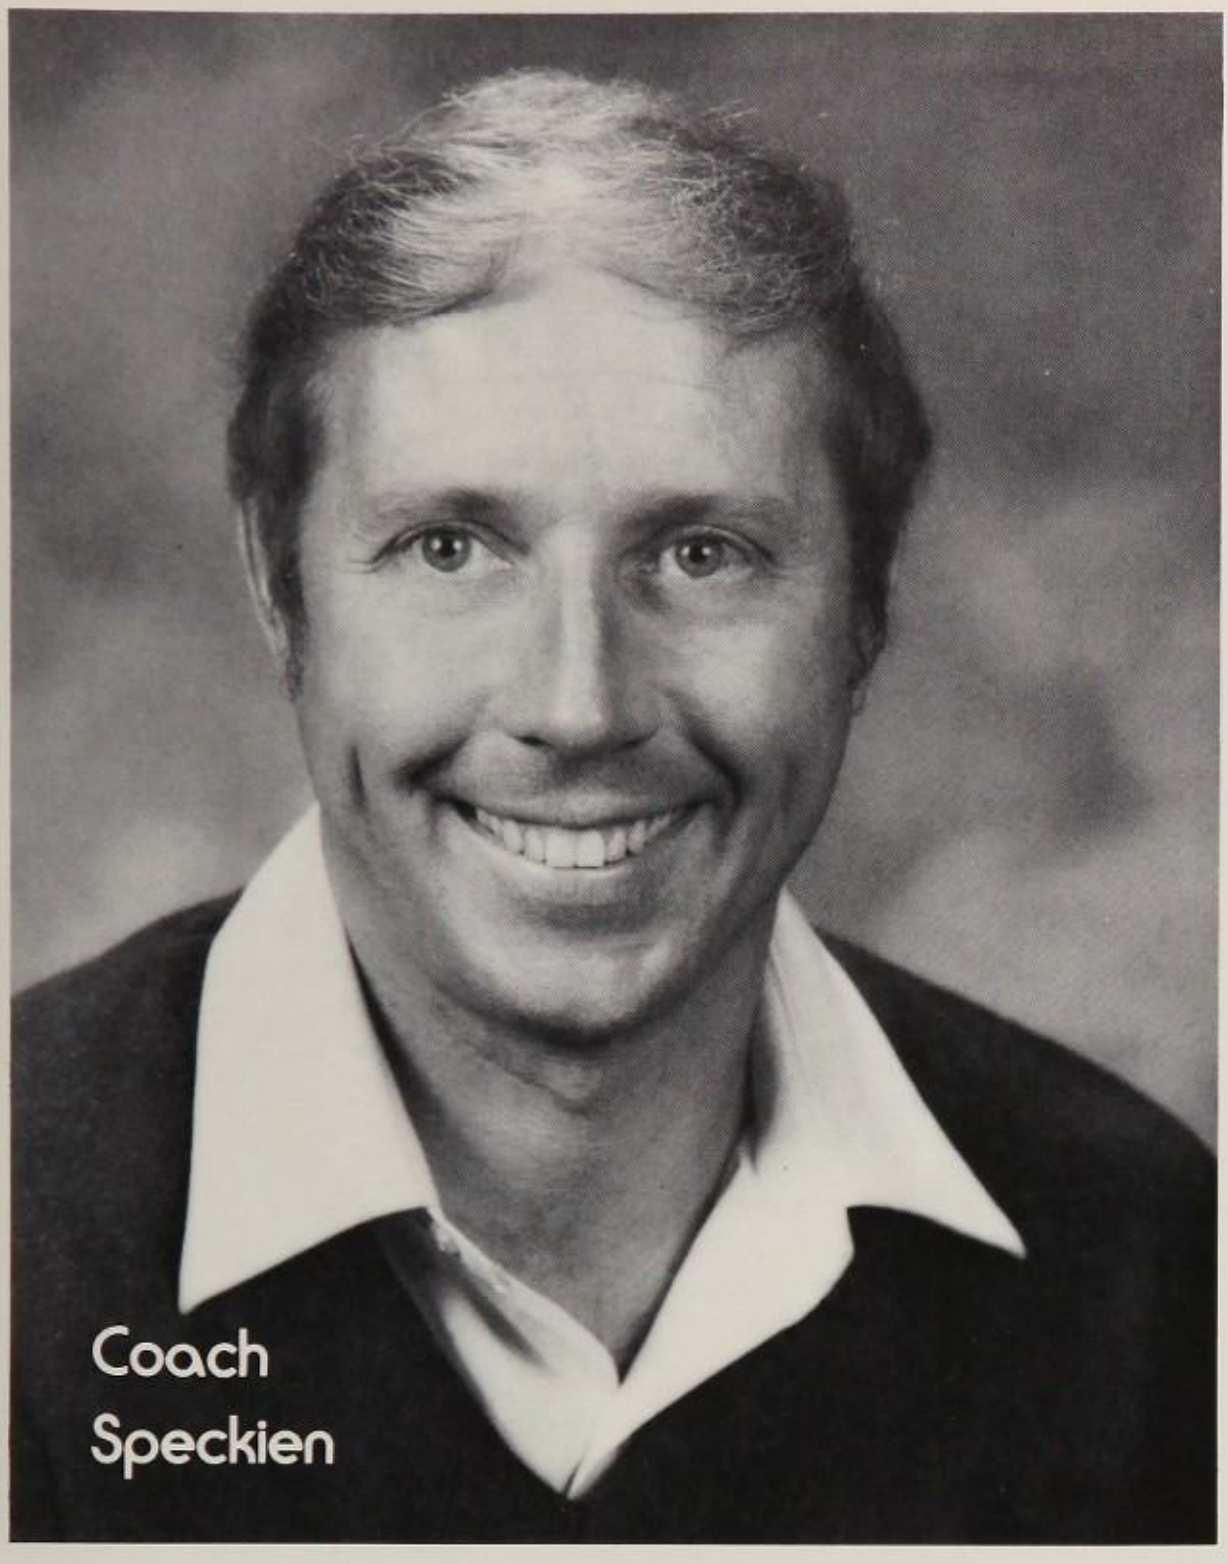
(1) Keep your head up. (2) Take that!



Coach Speckien

Golden Tennis

As in past years, coach John Speckien has produced fine quality tennis players. With his unique style of coaching, he has gained a lot of respect and as a result has obtained respectable wins and few losses.

The team seemed to communicate well with Coach Speckien and their success showed it.

When the pressure was on, the entire team worked together, as was displayed in the beginning of the season with three tragedies.

Coach Speckien was also a fine math teacher, which helped him work well with his team. As done in past years, this 1981 version of the Fairview Tennis team should be a very promising.

(1) Intensity marks Coach Speckien's personality. (2) Friendliness and a wry wit make a good combination.

Teamwork Prevails

This year's sophomore boys' basketball team improved greatly over the season, posting a 9-7 record overall and a 7-4 record in league play. Coach Zancanelli was pleased with their improvement and development of teamwork. The team had an excellent defense. The best proof of their defensive ability and teamwork came in a come-from-behind victory over Cherry Creek where they were down 20 points at the half. Next year's varsity and j.v. coaches can look forward to some excellent players.

J.V. Basketball Burns Up Court

In his third year, junior varsity boys' basketball coach Ralph Patterson relished a first for him: two victories in one season over Boulder High. The team got off to a slow start, going through a tough pre-season, but came on strong towards the end. It was an enjoyable season for everyone, finishing with a record of in league play.

Varsity Hits Fantastic Year

Coach Bob Hofman's third FHS basketball team had a spectacular year. They ended the regular season 16-1 and gained an automatic berth in the state tournament. The Knights only loss came to arch rival Boulder; however, the Knights countered with a win in the preseason, the first in seven years.

Captains Billy Thompson and Randall Scruggs consistently led the team in scoring with Thompson finishing at 19 points per game. Tage Tracy and Brian Scruggs complemented the captains with the rebounding of Tracy and the numerous assists of Scruggs. Barry Remington, the only junior in the first five, led the team in rebounding, averaging seven rebounds a game. Graham Hill was the sixth man off a seldom-used but productive Knight bench. Hill was instrumental in relieving both Scruggs brothers throughout the cage season.

Soph. Girls Hit Hoops

It was a learning year for both first-year coach Liz Brugger and this year's sophomore girls' basketball team. The gals showed good improvement over the season and displayed great potential and spirit. Coach Brugger felt they were the most talented in the league, "Just short of confidence," she commented.

Their strongest point was on defense, but they shot well as a team. The team showed its stuff best against Arapahoe, even though the team lost. The team was looking forward to putting their experience to good use next year.

J.V. Girls Shoot Hot, Stop Creek

Junior varsity girls' basketball was highlighted by fast-breaking tactics and increased accuracy in shooting. The team constantly improved as the season continued, playing a fine defensive game against Cherry Creek, and running the ball well, with only two turnovers.

Lady Cagers Steadily Improve

It was a building year for girls' basketball. Starting the season with only two returning letterwomen was a slight stumbling block, which the team soon overcame. The ladies improved steadily with each game, finishing strong and ending with a .500 season.

Coach Callan emphasized basics and fundamentals, which paid off in the long run by helping the team work together as a unit.

Becky Callan was the team's leading scorer and hustler but missed several games because of training for tennis. The team put forth an outstanding effort against Gateway, Cherry Creek, and Boulder High.

Golden Basketball

Nina Patterson, this year's Golden Girls' Basketball winner, attributed much of her success in basketball to her two older brothers who played the sport; she has been active in basketball since the seventh grade.

The team atmosphere was a major aspect of the sport Nina liked. In order to improve her game, she practiced shooting a great deal on the weekends. Stating her philosophy about the game, Nina emphasized, "Never be intimidated!"

Golden Basketball

Carol Callan, raised in St. Louis, credited much of her basketball know-how to her father, who was a high school coach. After playing college basketball at William Woods, she attended graduate school at C.U., where she was an assistant coach for the women's team, working with coach Jerry Zancanelli for four years. She coached girls' basketball at Fairview for four years.

Coach Callan's philosophy is that "Basketball should be fun, and at the same time there should be dedication and hard work involved to become the best a person can be."

Small Team Makes Big Splash

This year's boys swim team finished their season with a good 6-4 record. Coach Paul Boland and Assistant Coaches Mike Painter and Rich Kleine. Each was a swim coach for one of the last two years. They coached a small but spunky Fairview team.

"What we lacked in quantity we made up for in quality!" said Coach Boland. He proudly exclaimed that 76% of his team qualified for state: Mike Young, Keith Benson, Bill Fairchild, Dave Mahoney, Keith Gable, Jeff Braun, Craig Hahn, Dan Albritton, Matt Peterson, Dave Reed, Eric Nauenberg, Ron Benson, and Gary Meyer.

Fairview did very well in individual competition, but because of the low numbers of swimmers could not do well in team competition. They put in many hours of practice every day and each deserved recognition.

Golden Swimming

Ron Benson was one of two swimmers chosen by Coach Paul Boland this year.

An outstanding student, Ron maintained a 4.0 average while also playing tennis, competing on the debate team, and participating as a senator at Boys' State and Youth-in-Government. He applied to several universities where he planned to major in engineering.

His performance in the 50 and 100-yard freestyle gained Ron a place in the state meet. In his three years at Fairview, Ron lettered and qualified for state all three.

In his sophomore year, he placed eighth in state in the 100-yard breaststroke, followed by second place in the High School Invitational. During both junior and senior years, Dan qualified for state competition in the breaststroke.

While taking classes such as German 5, Calculus, A.P. English, and Advanced Chemistry, Dan maintained a 4.0 average.

Grapplers Earn Golden Title

Terrific may not be a big enough word for the 1981 wrestling team, considering they won the most outstanding wrestling team award at the Boulder Valley Invitational and captured the Golden title.

The Knight wrestlers were one of the five powerhouses in the Centennial League with a dual record of eight and three for the season. Possibly their biggest win of the year came against cross-town rival Boulder. They pinned the Panthers 41-15. "Overall we had a fantastic year." remarked Head Coach, Mike Stanley.

Mike Bellipani and Steve Paiz received the outstanding sophomore awards. The Shelby Wilson award, given to the wrestler who showed the most dedication, went to Doug Weller.

Golden Wrestling

Wrestling since the third grade, Sam Paiz, this year's Golden Wrestler, took fifth in the state tournament. Several coaches at Fairview helped Sam to learn to prepare himself mentally and physically for his matches. What Sam liked most about wrestling was the competition and the winning of the matches. Sam plans to practice wrestling in college and to teach it this coming summer. "Coach Stanley and Coach MacArthur helped me to improve my wrestling by 200% this year; they are great coaches and great guys," added Sam.

Coach Stanley

Golden Wrestling

Head Coach Mike Stanley along with Assistant Coach Doug MacArthur have led a winning wrestling team this 1981 season. Stanley had only words of praise for his entire staff this year. "All the credit goes to the head coach, but just the same amount should go to the assistants," commented Stanley of MacArthur. Stanley was also quick to add that he "was ably assisted" by ex-FHS wrestler Mike Yee.

Intramurals Accommodate

Intramurals was an activity designed for non-varsity athletes. Players were given the chance to compete against one another in some of their after-school leisure time.

The number of students who participated in intramurals exceeded any other activity this year.

There was a wide range of sports offered, from football, basketball, volleyball, and soccer, to non-team sports such as weight training, conditioning, and aerobic dancing.

"I enjoyed this year working with the young adults," said Intramurals Director "Moose" Eversole.

Health Textbook is Restricted

A number of things happened this year in both the school administration and the School Board. Perhaps the most publicized event was the School Board's removal of a health textbook from regular classroom use. Here at Fairview, Dr. Van Howe received his Ph.D., and almost every administrator changed jobs. Mr. Mitchell left, and Mr. Faulkenburg became Assistant Principal in charge of Buildings and Grounds, plus serving as Director of Athletics. Mrs. Dorsey was chosen to replace Mr. Faulkenburg as Assistant Principal in charge of Pupil Personnel, and Mrs. English became an Administrative Assistant part time. Mr. Danielson continued as Assistant Principal in charge of Curriculum and Class Schedules, but his office moved to the main office.

Business Adds Up to Success

Future Wall Street financiers were abundant in Mr. Diekhoff's Business Department. Courses offered included office skills such as Typing, Stenoscript, combinations of these and management skills, Personal Money Management and Business Law. Mr. Diekhoff stressed that some of these classes were designed specifically for people interested in a business career, while others were for practical use to all students.

English Is A Foreign Language

The English Department at Fairview had a wide variety of courses to choose from. The department, headed by Carol Koch, was one of the most important in the school's academic program. The seniors who took A.P.E., however, were inclined to believe otherwise, saying, "A.P.E. is a tragedy." Some of the other interesting English classes were Old Testament, Journalism and American Novel. The English teachers did all they could to make the classes fun and exciting.

Fine Arts Creates a Scene

The Fine Arts Department at Fairview had many opportunities for the student interested in music and drama. This year the department produced, "To Kill a Mockingbird, and four one act plays. The department is headed by Rita Kotter along with Van Alesandro, a new addition. The Fine Arts Department also offers extensive instrumental and vocal programs. Cross Culture was a class which offered students a view of many cultures. Teaching aids included films, guest speakers and field trips.

Home Ec. Stirs Up Creativity

Whether amateur or expert, Fairview's Home Economics Department has something to offer. The student could take classes ranging from Foods and Basic Clothing to more advanced classes of Meals and Dress Design. Even the males could make use of this department by taking Single Survival. I.M.C. Provides Media

Fairview's I.M.C. was one of the school's most valuable assets. There was an open-space library, I.L.C., English, Business, Science, and Social Studies Resource Centers and a Production Room. Math Teaches the Impossible

Mr. Sheppers and his staff enjoyed perplexing students with conic sections, wrapping functions and logarithms. Fairview's math department offered a wide range of courses from Consumer Math to Computer Science and Calculus C. In Computer Science, Mr. Speckien taught both Basic and Fortran on Fairview's six terminals. With the help of fine math teachers, Fairview students were prepared to meet the challenges of the future.

Phys. Ed. Ate Its Wheaties

The student at Fairview had many different physical education courses to choose from. One did not have to be athletically inclined to enjoy physical education. The department was headed by Doug MacArthur with the help of his dedicated staff. Students had to take Health, everyone's favorite class, which was required to graduate. Besides preparing the student for his future, P.E. was a lot of fun.

Resource Room Works Wonders

The Resource Room helped many students this year to develop their thinking to its greatest potential. In the hustle and bustle of everything, Pat Upczak and staff managed to find time for everyone. They offered attention to the students to help them with their problems and provide counselling in schedules, conflicts with parents or teachers, and tutoring. Most importantly, the Resource Room was there to listen and provide encouragement.

Science Kills Doorknob Theory

This year the sciences at Fairview (headed by Janet Chu) once again contributed to an exciting year. Activities ranged from dissecting cats and grasshoppers to studying plastic models of atoms. The highlight of the year was their annual bio-environmental field trip in Estes Park for biology, geology, and advanced biology students. Activities on the trip included studies of different habitats, peak to peak hikes, races up mountains, and square dancing. As usual, those students taking science classes this year learned much from their experience. After all, who's afraid of doorknobs anymore?

History Records Transition

The Social Studies Department once again offered a wide variety of classes, with more to choose from than many departments. Department Head Al Jacques and his staff offered classes which ranged from Human Relations to Asia, China, and Japan. This year's Fairview Social Studies Department was the most outstanding in the district.

Vo-Tech Trains Practically

The programs at Vo-Tech offered a wide variety of options as alternatives to regular high school classes. For high school students, the Vocational Technical Center programs were free. The alternative school also offered VICA, a club for the students. VICA sponsored competitions and conventions every year.

Vo-tech provided classes which taught skills that area high school could not. Students could graduate from Vo-tech and be placed almost immediately in a job in their field. Other students chose to go to college and use their Vo-tech training to earn income for school or while awaiting a job in their college major.

Support Staff Aids Teachers

This year, as in past years, the non-teaching staff at Fairview helped the year run smoothly. The cooks kept our tummies full and happy with various culinary delights. The secretaries in guidance, attendance, and the main office did innumerable things to help the administration and staff get by. And when our brains were overloaded, the school nurse, Audrey Ambler, helped us out.

Lance Staff Saves Memories

The Lance staff was as busy as ever this year trying to put together a comprehensive, fun yearbook. Polly Palmer, the sponsor, had her hands full with all of the confusion and mayhem that occurred with the undertaking of such a huge project.

The first few months were devoted to training everyone to draw layouts, take pictures and collect information. Editor Jim Baker agrees, "It's hard work," but thinks it's all worth it. Those of us who survived the experience also agree it was well worth the trouble.

Royal Banner Informs School

The Royal Banner goal for this year was to increase its readership by trying to reach a cross-section of Fairview's students with a wide variety of story subjects.

Editor-in-Chief Carrie Romero did her best to keep everyone in line and get things done on time. Every Thursday was a race against time, as the staff struggled through layouts, Mc Donalds, and the road to the printers. The editors waited long hours for last minute copy, had many discussions with the staff at Intermountain Color, and shared the light tables with Boulder High.

Through all the trials, tribulations, and deadlines, Adviser Carol Koch and crew nearly always made it.

Drawbridge Opens up Shop

Drawbridge Magazine was an idea of Susanna Stern. She acted as the editor for the magazine, dedicated to giving an outlet to the talented writers and artists among Fairview's student body. Unfortunately, the biggest problem of Susanna, sponsor Russ Croop, and the other members of the staff, was an almost total lack of interest in the project. Not only were students reluctant to pay 50¢ for the magazine, but even more surprising was the fact that very few students cared to submit their works. Evan Conroy, a staff member, commented that "the apathy at Fairview is sad and disgusting."

Juggling Club Masters Hands

Slight-of-hand was a skill practiced by the members of the Juggling Club. Comprised of no officers and few members, the club was very smooth running.

"We have a great time without being serious like other clubs," stated Steve Dovala.

The main purpose was to teach people how to juggle, have fun, and do new tricks. Sponsor Chuck O'Hara held meetings once a week or every two weeks, whenever it was convenient for the members. Juggling Club will be producing strange feats with the hands for a long time.

This year Photo Club explored the various facets of photography. They went on photographic safaris, photographed models, and went skiing.

The club bought a new enlarger with money raised from selling doughnuts and photos of Santa and Mrs. Claus.

Bill Codding, president of the club, said, "The Photo Club was the best of the past few years, because we explored photographic areas of interest."

Russian Club: Ukpa U Bogka

Russian Club sponsor Mrs. Sampson helped to promote a greater knowledge of Russian culture. President Sheri Spunt and club members held a pot luck, dances with singing, and decorated eggs. The club raised about $100 through a week long doughnut sale. Jirair Christianian said of the club, "Russian Club is really neat because it attempts to give a better understanding of the Russian culture."

The Spanish Club was once again sponsored by Mr. Hartenstein, who has been in charge of the group for the past seventeen years. The group's activities included potluck dinners every first Monday of the month, visits to Spanish restaurants, a Cuban-type Christmas dinner, guest speakers, and the sponsoring of a Peruvian foster child. It took $228 to support the child, and the club raised the money through donut sales. "This is a social club; it always has been and it always will be," smiled Mr. Hartenstein.

Deutschist Sehr. Schones

Bringing a bit of Deutschland here was the main interest of German Club this year. Advisers Inge Sargent and Sarah Skelton brought the language and the customs to its members with monthly potluck dinners. The president of the club this year was Kristen Wolfe with the help of Britta Skerjanec as Vice President.

Unfortunately, German Camp, usually held in March, was cancelled. But, the club provided a unique experience for students who wished to travel to Germany and speak the language.

Paiges Promote Participation

Paiges were a group of students who volunteered their time to show new students and guests around the school. Past projects included buying medical equipment for the handicapped.

Key Club Dares to Influence

Key Club was a nationwide, high school, service organization which worked closely with its sponsoring Kiwanis Club. This year, Key Club held its traditional Winter Ball, helped ring the bell at Christmas for the Salvation Army, donated clothing to Granada Missions, and hosted the District Convention at the Hilton Harvest House in Boulder. The club was under the excellent sponsorship of DeAnna Wesley who helped the club carry out the 1980-81 International Theme: "Dare to Influence."

Aero Club Flies the Skies

This year a new club formed over the skies of Fairview. Aero Club, founded by Mr. Daniels, went to Jeffco Airport to take off for various Colorado cities, such as Ft. Collins and Greeley.

Because Mr. Daniels had the use of a plane, club members were able to join without incurring any expense, except for travelling to and from the Jeffco Airport.

Judo Club Leaps and Bounds

Another new club found its way to Fairview. Judo Club got off to a flying start. "Members not only learned judo," pointed out President Tonya Mayo, "they had a great time getting some indoor exercise."

Club members were taught different holds and throws each night by a resident black belt and after some time were eligible to earn a red belt. Eric Farone commented, "The club is a great idea; I hope it continues to be a success."

Backgammon Club Challenges Best

Skill and luck have combined at Fairview High School in the Backgammon Club. The club was formed to provide friendly competition among people who enjoy playing backgammon. A challenge ladder exists to help players improve their skills by playing the members who are ranked above them. The enthusiasm at Fairview High School was the reason why the club started this year. The club hopes to continue to grow more and more each year.

Knight Flyers Take Off

A brand new club "took off" this year with Adviser Ken Sherman at the wheel. The Model Airplane Club got started by a group of students who were interested in model building. The purpose of the club was to promote radio control model building and to teach the proper techniques of using these models. "This is a good club. The students appear to be very interested in it. I am sorry that it didn't get started sooner," commented Mr. Sherman.

Two Knights End a Grueling Battle

For the fifth straight year Mr. Ken Baldwin sponsored the chess club. The members played a round robin among themselves. Besides competing among themselves, they went to many tournaments and had state ranked speakers attend. The club was a non-profit organization and everyone brought his own board to engage in games of chess, the club's main purpose.

Thursdays Are Knights' Night

This year's Radio Club brought sports, comedy and news to the airway every Thursday night at 8:05 on KBOL. Their radio show "Knight Life" began with Monty Python's song "Knights of the Round Table" and kept the Monty Python craziness alive for the following half hour, while still providing pertinent news to students of Fairview and other members of the community. In addition to reporting school news and sports, they regularly reviewed movies and records. While they sometimes made mistakes, they always seemed to continue by apologizing and reminding us that "it's live radio."

Bicycle Club Rolls Along

Bike Club did well this year as a new club at Fairview. Sponsored by Mr. Hunter, the purpose of Bike Club was to enjoy biking and learn bicycle saftey, maintenance and repair. The President was Steve Beal and Erick Cecil was Vice-President and Treasurer.

Flyers Get in Condition

The purpose of the Fairview Flyers was to promote "fun and fitness," as sponsor Roger Briggs said. The group met every day, and ran either together or individually. Apart from keeping fit, the club produced some of the state's best runners. The group ran cross country in the fall and participated in track meets in the spring. The group got the extra bonus of seeing slide shows and presentations on rock climbing, one of Mr. Briggs' various interests.

Senior Women Come Out On Top

"The Turnabout Dance is the biggest dance of the year because the people who organize it are great!" said Mo Pierce, a member of Senior Women's Club.

One of the main purposes of the club is for senior women to get together and "gab", rather than plan boring meetings. The group did have a bake sale February 10 for Valentine's Day and swung to Roundtree at the Turnabout Dance March 14.

Adviser Al Jacques commented, "I just let the women run the show."

Pep Club Boosts Spirits

Pep Club, comprised of interested students and cheerleaders, helped spur on various athletes representing Fairview by making banner signs for the student center and decorating the athletes' lockers with personalized messages. They devoted countless hours to encouraging the girls and guys on all the major and minor sports. In addition, they were to provide the backbone for the cheering sections at the athletic events.

T.p. Reaches All-Time Low

The soft touch of toilet paper was only a faded memory at Fairview High. Hundreds of roles were stored in closets and rarely found their way into the student restrooms during the school day when the demand was high.

Students contemplated replacing this precious vegetation to copies of Algebra II books. Even teachers and secretaries had problems from time to time.

Every week, SIC classes howled at their Stu-Co reps to do something about the problem.

School Store Sells Supplies

This year Fairview's School Store got off to a rocky start, but managed to get its act together. The store is for the convenience of Fairview students, and the money raised went towards school improvement projects. Candy, school supplies and school ski caps and t-shirts were sold, with sales averaging $110 a day. The School Store was sponsored by Mr. Diekhoff and managed by Paul Rothe.

Ski Club Uses Artificial Snow

The lack of snow this year did not deter the Ski Club's formation. Advisers Dale Goddard, Jim Scheppers and Jerry Faulkenburg organized the group and planned trips. Two trips to Aspen were planned. The funds for the trips were partially provided by the sale of Gold "C" Books, which were sold by some of the club members. The whole purpose of the club was to make it easier for students to go on well-planned ski trips.

Medieval Club Revels Rowdily

"I think if you have school spirit, you should understand what you're having spirit for," commented Medieval Club president Kirsten McClune. Thus, this unusual club encouraged its members to adopt a persona from the Middle Ages and dress accordingly. The members partied heavily. Favorite revels included All Hallows Eve, Twelfth Night, and Natal Days.

FBLA Gets Into Business

"The purpose of F.B.L.A. is to promote leadership skills and to introduce the business world to the students," stated treasurer Karen Balch. The club members competed against each other in skills of accounting, filing, mathematics, and typing. The members also competed against people from the district. The top three went to the Broadmoor for the state tournament. Members sold doughnuts and Fairview Knight key chains to fund a banquet at the end of the year for the employers of F.B.L.A. members.

Helpful Hints Come from Heloise

Future Homemakers of America was a club to help the community, learn responsibility, and have fun. Sponsored by Mrs. Ladwig, the club was always active, either making quilts for Indians or potting plants for senior citizens. They held many fund raisers such as selling gingerbread houses and candles, carnations and mistletoe for Valentine's Day and Christmas and delivering them to one's sweetheart. The money raised went to send club members to the state F.H.A. convention at the Broadmoor in Colorado Springs. Secretary Jane Kamas felt, "It's a chance for us to help people and have fun at the same time."

Future Leaders Visit D.C.

Political club was as busy as ever this year under the direction of Dr. Timmons. The students in the club attended both the Colorado and Washington D.C. Close-Up programs as well as organizing and attending debates by candidates for both Colorado and federal positions. Only a few students attended the Washington program because of the $680 fee, but those who went agreed that it was well worth it. As Dr. Timmons said, "The purpose of the club is to learn about, as well as participate in, America's political system."

Close-Up Goes D.C.

Close-Up offered another trip to Washington D.C. for a few students this year. For $680 students had a luxurious week in D.C. They attended seminars by government officials and did some sight seeing in the capital city. Fairview students got involved in important issues while participating in government itself. Adviser Eloise Timmons had the treacherous task of overseeing the students. "It was a nonstop experience for a week, but well worth it," she sighed.

Junior World Leaders Unite

International Relations Club, sponsored by Scott Alexander, went over big this year. This club promoted a better understanding of foreign cultures, customs, and relationships between countries. A foreign speaker was present at the monthly potluck dinner, which featured a lot of different types of food.

In April, the club members attended a model United Nations at the University of Northern Colorado. The I.R.C. also attended a model Security Council at C.U. and held one at Fairview themselves. I.R.C. was one of the most productive clubs at Fairview.

"Walk together, talk together, oh ye people of the Earth; then and only then shall ye have peace."

American Field Service tried to promote world peace through social and cultural events, hosting and sending exchange students to other lands.

Thespians Act Out Fantasies

Thespis was the original Greek actor, and members of the International Thespian Troupe #2866 carry on the tradition he set thousands of years ago. This year the co-sponsors of the troupe were Rita Kotter and Van Alessandro. The officers were, President Barry Rinehart, Vice-President Carlos Rafael Botran, and Secretary-Treasurer Kerri Lockwood. The groups only fund raiser was the children's play Jack and the Beanstalk, but that was not their only activity. They went to the Colorado Thespian convention, had a Christmas-initiation party, attended plays, and had a senior banquet. Above all, they never forgot the Thespian motto: "Act well your part, for there all honor lies."

Mr. Craig's Forensic Club was a multi-purpose group competing in inter-scholastic speech tournaments enabling students to gain skills and experience in speaking before an audience. Some Saturdays this year, the group participated in and held inter-District competitions. The main three events were debating, extemporary speaking, and interpretation of literature.

Strings Sing for Symphony

Under the direction of Ms. Andrea Myers, Fairview's Symphony Orchestra had a very successful season. The orchestra consisted of musicians with varying abilities. Several students had the honor of performing in All-State Orchestra and the Centennial League Orchestra. Some of the year's highlights were the Concert of Major Works with Festival Choir, a combined concert with Loveland, and touring of some elementary schools around Boulder. This year was also special because the entire orchestra played in the school musical.

Flags Take State

The Fairview Marching Knights, directed by Bob Jeffrey, received several second place finishes this year. The Flag Line, however, won first place at the state competition.

The band raised $30,000, part of which was set aside for the trip to the Rose Bowl in 1983.

The band completed its final competition at the two-day Canon City Blossom Day Festival, which included both parade marching and a field show.

Eight O'Clock is Jazz Time

How would you like to have to go to school at 8:00 a.m. and play rock and jazz? That's what members of the eight o'clock jazz band do almost every day. They were the most advanced band at Fairview, and proud of it. The band performed at the Golden Jazz Festival, Pops Festival, the Jazz-Rock Concert, the C.M.E.A. meeting in Colorado Springs, and with the Denver Kicks Band. The purpose of the group was to promote popular instrumental music and have a good time. They always succeeded at both.

9 O'clock Jazz Band Rocks FHS

The nine o'clock jazz band was Fairview's intermediate jazz band. Musicians in this group got exposure to the big band sound by performing traditional to contemporary styles of jazz, rock, and pop music. The band performed at many events, such as the Golden Jazz Festival, Jazz Rock Concert, Pops Festival, and Extravaganza.

Excalibur Jazzes up Performance

"The caliber of excellence", Excalibur, was a small jazz group singing a wide variety of pop tunes. Between August 1980 and June 1981, they participated in over forty performances, including Jazz Rock and Pops Festival. Excalibur was also featured at the Colorado Music Educators' Association meeting. "It was a lot of work," commented members of the group, but they all agreed that "The things we strive for may not be possible, but what else could we try for?" Their theme song, "Let's Take the Long Way Around the World," was sung before every performance, and if that was their emotional uplift, it sure worked, because once they got on stage the audience did not want to see them leave.

Festival Finishes Fabulously

Festival Choir was a group of 75 dedicated members, mainly seniors. Festival Choir performed in five concerts throughout the year and was featured in "The Concert of Great Works." Some members shared sentiments with Rod Cox that "Everybody needs music," and others agreed with Mo Pierce that "Life is a song and Love is the music." Still other members went along with Ginger Wilson who said, "Where would we be without our music?" President Marla Sparn emphasized, "Festival is just a part of a very close department and we wouldn't be what we are without Mr. Revier."

Broadway Sings Out

A choir made up of 70 members that provided entertainment for all who watched them, Broadway Show Choir gave students an opportunity to work on vocal techniques along with choreography. Broadway medlies were sung either as large groups, solos, duos or other small groups. They performed at all the major concerts of the year and were featured in the Winter Concert with their fifties and sixties medlies. All members seemed to have a great time singing, dancing and just having good fun all year.

Concert Controls Audience

Concert Choir was the largest choir at Fairview, consisting of 104 members. The main purpose of Concert Choir was to provide the student with a great feeling of responsibility and to provide the audience with great entertainment. Concert Choir performed at all the major concerts and the audience always seemed to enjoy them. Both President Sharon Mills and Vice-President Michelle Snow agreed, "The group wouldn't be the same without the understanding and teaching of Mr. Keller."

Madrigals Sing Medievally

Madrigals was a group consisting of few members, all of whom were very dedicated. This was a very select group and it was an honor to be a member. Madrigals focused on music from the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. Beside the traditional concerts, Madrigals also performed throughout the community. The members met two days a week after school and received no credit. The members didn't mind because of the applause they received at every concert.

Chivalry Shows Its Charm

Chivalry was the only all-male choir at Fairview this year, proving that "Chivalry is not dead" as stated at Extravaganza. This choir was extracurricular, meeting after school for rehearsal, and performed at all major concerts. "Chivalry over the past year was a huge success," said President Pat Laughlin. Chivalry, along with Court of Charlemagne, enjoyed a night out at The Boulder Dinner Theatre. Everybody there said they had a great time. As a matter of fact, they seemed to have a great time all year.

Court Does it Best

The sophomore, junior, and senior girls in Court of Charlemagne sang a wide variety of choral medlies. In addition, "Court" participated in the outside activities of the choir department. This year, along with Chivalry, they saw The King and I. President Kim Lauterbach stated, "For the size of the choir there is great group participation and it's so neat how enthusiastic everyone is."

Guinevere Puts Out For Crowds

Age of Guinevere was an all-female choir consisting of sixty-eight members. They performed at all of the concerts and in Extravaganza. Age of Guinevere, along with Court of Charlemagne co-hosted a party for the Holiday Concert. They also joined in on the festivities within the choir department. These activites included picnics and roller skating parties. The biggest event was the choir banquet at the end of the year. President Allyson Kearney said, "I had a great time all year making music with all the other girls and meeting all the new people."

I just can't believe how fast this year has gone it so sad. I still can remember the 1st time we met I bet you don't. You asked me $ Ondreak. If we went to F.H. and you took our pectore and I wanted you to get a lot of pictures of #5. Boy, a lot sure had happend since then huh? We had a few problems that I would to take the time to apologize for. I was a real jerk sometimes Rence - forgive me? I hope so. You made me feel so much better at B.H. Wooday! You really did. I think that you made me realize a lot! Things are better again THANKS! Wasn't it great? I just so much fun? Good luck on the final. Your just gunna have so much fun next year. You better enjoy it cuz it goes fast. I'm sure we'll keep in touch cuz I'll only be at C.U. so you better remember me!! I really could ramble on and on I just want you to know your a very SPECIAL girl don't ever let anyone tell you different or I'll Pop um one! I love you a lot you saved this part) Relationship.. !! Good luck always

Head Boy Listens

"Trust men, and they will be true to you; treat them greatly, and they will show themselves great," said Ralph Waldo Emerson, portraying the thoughts of D.E. Followwill, Fairview's Head Boy. D.E. led the Boulder contingent at Colorado youth in Government, and represented FHS on the Boulder Valley School Board.

Head Girl Organizes

"There is one who considers himself rich, yet has nothing. And one who considers himself poor yet possesses great wealth," reflected Julie Andrew, this year's Head Girl. The responsibilities of the Head Girl were many. She presided over the Student Council meetings, promoted school unity, and most importantly, she listened and adhered to the students' wishes the best that she was able.

Seniors Survive Final Year

For their final year at Fairview High, the seniors were led by President Paul Cowdery and Secretary/Treasurer Chris Haas. The class made its final attempt with the float, pulling off a second place in the contest. The class also showed us their musical talent at the Holiday Assembly. Other projects that kept the officers and their clan busy were the steak fry, graduation, and parties. With the help of the sponsors, Mr. Cohen and Mr. Eversole, everything was kept in line.

Jr. Class Rises to the Top

Juniors got the year off to a good start by taking first place in the annual Homecoming float contest. President Brad Swartzwelter and Secretary/Treasurer Sharon Mills kept the class going with many projects. Some of these activities included selling popsicles, getting together a skit for the Holiday Assembly, planning prom, politicking for Head Boy and Head Girl, and getting more projects and ideas lined up for next year. The class of '82 was supported by Mrs. Carolyne Brandon.

Sophs Have New Faces, New Ideas

The class of '83 introduced Fairview to a parade of new faces. These sophomores were led by President Jeff Behr and Secretary/Treasurer Kris Wertz. Despite the disqualification of their Homecoming float, the officers led their class with confidence. In November, they sponsored Take a Turkey to Dinner, raising money for the class. Mr. Altenborg took on the job of helping this unique class.

Stu-Co Wraps Up Good Year

Student Council this year was a vibrant and energetic group. They helped in serving the students, promoting communication within the school, and upholding the high standards of the school in the eyes of the community. Some exciting moments from this year were the excellence of Homecoming, the northwest corner of the star, and the clock in the student center.

Reminiscing Reflects Homecoming

"I didn't know if it was really true; I blanked out for about five minutes," remembered Mindy Kearney, the Homecoming Queen for 1980. Mindy was attended by Tracy Arnold, Julie Mussil, Susanne Partayan, and Margaret Rogers.

The festivities began with the displaying of the floats, and the Homecoming parade. The class of '82 captured first place in the float contest.

"Reminiscing" was the theme for the celebration. The band was a little too wild for the occasion, but everyone had fun anyway.

Extravaganza Explodes

Extravaganza, presented by the Fairview Fine Arts Department on Oct. 19, entertained a standing room only crowd in the Fairview High gymnasium.

The choirs were directed by Jim Keller and Ron Revier, and the marching band was led by Robert Jeffrey. Andrea Meyers conducted the orchestra, and Steve Christopher conducted the jazz bands. The drawing and painting was organized by George Davis, and Charlene Beck presented the sculpture and ceramics. Rita Kotter said, "All the Fine Arts department members were pleasantly surprised. In spite of things going on two weeks early, it went off without a hitch."

Prejudice Presented in Fall Play

"If there ever was a time when people should be patient with each other and respect their differences, it's now," exclaimed Van Alessandro, director of the fall play, To Kill a Mockingbird.

The production was performed on October 23,24, and 25. The cast included M. Zurick, M. Kelsay, T. Bickell, B. Rinehart, K. Washington, R. Kelsay, K. Lockwood, J. Baer, D. Matheson, D. Ringsby, D. Ackelson, T. Noyes, J. Little, L. Pickens, J. Mabry, Y. Patton, S. Hill, J. Moore, S. Kennedy, and L. Johnson.

Students Show Talent in One Acts

"This group of One Acts was the best ever," exclaimed Kendra Sclarow. The One Acts, sponsored by Rita Kotter, were experimental theater and always played to a full house. The Introduction to Theater classes put a lot of time and energy into the One Acts. Due to the creativity involved, these plays were usually the most innovative and bizarre works the student directors could find.

Yell Squad Promotes Spirit

"The best part of cheering," remarked Lisa Lofdahl, "is watching the gorgeous players."

This year was an exciting year for the cheerleaders and the fans alike. We owed alot to our football cheerleaders for keeping the team and fans in good spirits. They donated alot of time and energy to the team by making baked goods, encouraging spirit, and by making locker signs such as "Home of a Knight."

A most honorable and special memory this year was being invited to cheer at the Bronco game in Denver.

Sophs Cheer on Teams

"The talent did not show up in the scores, but we are sure it will in years to come. We are proud of all the sophomores that participated in the events," beamed Pat Upczak.

Advisers Pat Upczak and Marilyn Coonley felt that they could remember and respect the sophomore cheerleaders for the tremendous energy they put into the support for the sophomore teams.

Ladies Cheer on Wrestlers

"Nobody does it better!," claims Fairview wrestling cheerleaders, who are sponsored by Marilyn Coonley and Pat Upczak. The cheerleaders had alot to do with the good year we had. They baked cookies and cakes for all the guys, and spent 14 hours cheering at the tournaments. They were especially proud of Wilhelm Estes for his first place achievements in Golden, and would remember the fun meetings, the cheer "Go Get 'Em," Steve Paiz, and Pizza Hut.

Basketball Cheers Up

"Basketball was fun; it sure kept us on the run, between the quarters and before the cheers; it sometimes created fears."

The basketball cheerleaders this year were an enthusiastic and energetic group. They did alot for the team—made them treats, helped them out at the car wash, and gave them support at the pep assemblies. They gave as much moral support as was possible. The bus rides and the yelling were important, but they also enjoyed watching the number one basketball team in Colorado. This year's basketball cheerleaders were sponsored by Pat Upzack and Marilyn Coonley.

Assembly Leads Into Vacation

On the Friday before winter break, Student Council presented its annual Holiday Assembly. Emcees Greg and Karen Gordon kept the show in line. Music was performed by Eight O'clock Jazz Band and Excalibur. Stu-Co representatives amused the audience with skits: sophomores with "Family Feud", juniors with "Truth or Consequences," and seniors with "The Twelve Days of Vacation." Also at this time, class Royalty and Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus were honored.

You've gone through much shit both give and take
But in the long run you've made
We enjoy our times though ~~they~~ the grade they've been few We will see each (and then some) other in heaven

I dont know where to start! I know the year started off to a bad start with us, but I think we ended it on a good way! It's a good thing we didnt let grant get between us cause he's not worth it!! We will for sure have to go do something soon!! I'm serious! You're a sweet person & I'll look forward to becoming great friends! Have a great summer! Good Luck Always!

Take Ya,
Kinny Hudd

REMEMBER

After 444 days of captivity, 52 Americans come home on January 21, 1981.  Italy is rocked by a devastating earthquake that kills thousands.  Polish workers strike against communist government.  Carter is buried under Reagan's landslide.  John Anderson speaks at C.U.  Mount Saint Helens blows its top.  Hotel fires cause a fire safety buckle up.  Peanut shortage is reflected in peanut butter price increase.  School Board bans health text.  Snow shortage makes for rocky sking.  Abby Hoffman comes out of hiding.  Many black children in Atlanta are found murdered.  Cuban refugees swarm south Florida.  Both President Carter and our Pricipal Van Howe break their shoulders.  U.S. Olympic team boycotts the Russian games.  Philadelphia Phillies take the World Series, and the Eagles drop the Super Bowl.  Duran's cramps lower credibility in the boxing world.  Ali loses to Holmes.  Peter Gilbert buys the Colorado Rockies.  Denver Avalanche roars indoors in its first season.  J.R.'s shooting makes the front page.  Saturday Night Live loses its flavor and Fridays is the new hit.  Shogun has us on edge for a week.  Mork and Mindy film at Wheels.  Star Wars IV strikes back.  Goldie Hawn makes many movie smashes.  The Shining scares us all.  We lost John Bonham, Colonel Sanders, Peter Sellers, Steve McQueen, John Lennon, Bill Haley, and our fellow classmates Ted McGinness and Joey Violette.  Punk and New Wave offer alternatives to Disco and Rock.  Beatle Mania shows us what life was like in the 60's.  Jeff Knapple (class of '74) makes the Broncos, and Chris Foote (class of '75) makes the Colts.  Oklahoma smears C.U. 82-42 while Fairbank's Buffalos only win once this season.  Knight girls capture X-Country state crown.  Knight cagers are victories over Panthers for the first time in seven years.  Knights end the Cherry Creek jinx on the football field.  The class of '81 is the tenth class to graduate from 1515 Greenbriar Blvd.

RENEE,
I'M GLAD THAT I MET
YOU THIS YEAR, WE HAD A STRANGE & WONDERFUL RELATIONSHIP - I WAS WONDERFUL & YOU WERE
STRANGE, JUST KIDDING!
HOPE TO SEE YOU THIS SUMMER, & HAVE A GOOD
ONE - TOO BAD I WON'T BE HERE NEXT YEAR

LOVE,
DAVE

Kelly,

I must say I'm really glad I met you this year. We've had some great times together and hopefully we can have many more. Thanks for understanding all this time that I'm not trying to be your mother, but I just think that I should give you some advice every now and then since your mother can't send you any newspaper articles any more! Have a really good summer - hope to hear from you while you're touring the U.S. with some rich family. love ya

a

Tom

You can get on with your search baby,
And I can get on with mine.
And maybe someday we will find
That it wasn't really wasted time.

Renée,

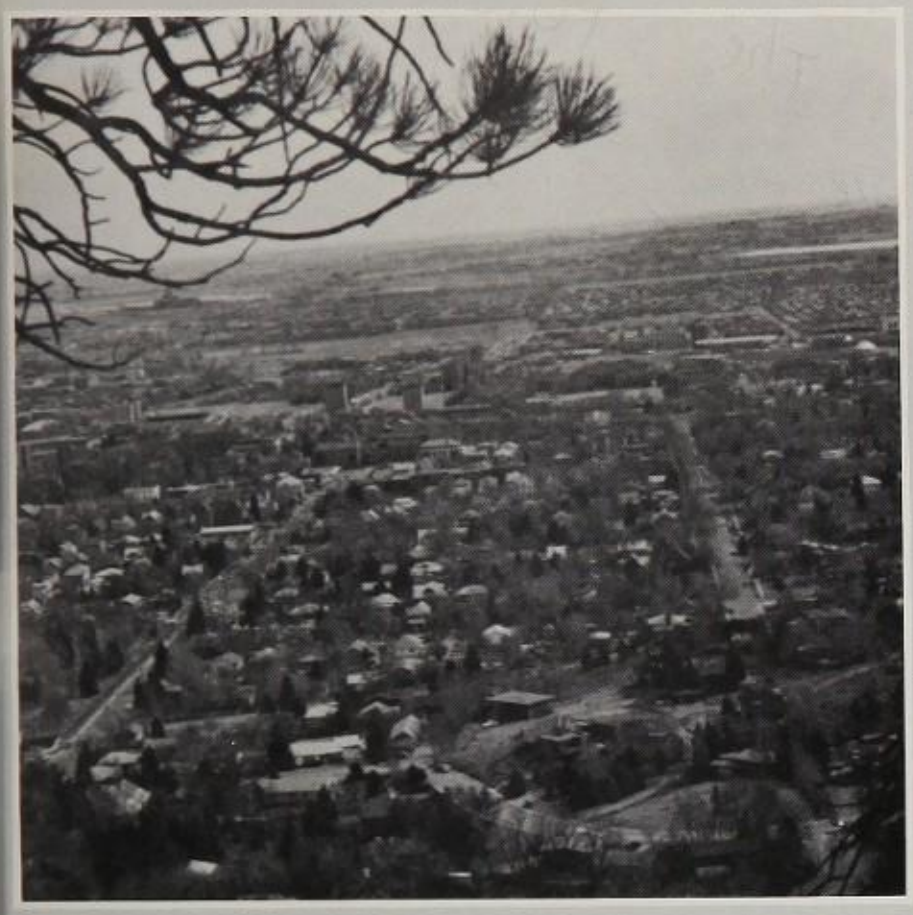
It was great being in your French class. I had a real good time. Next year we will have to make more brownies. Thats probably the only way to get through my Senior year. Hope to see you in some of my classes next year.

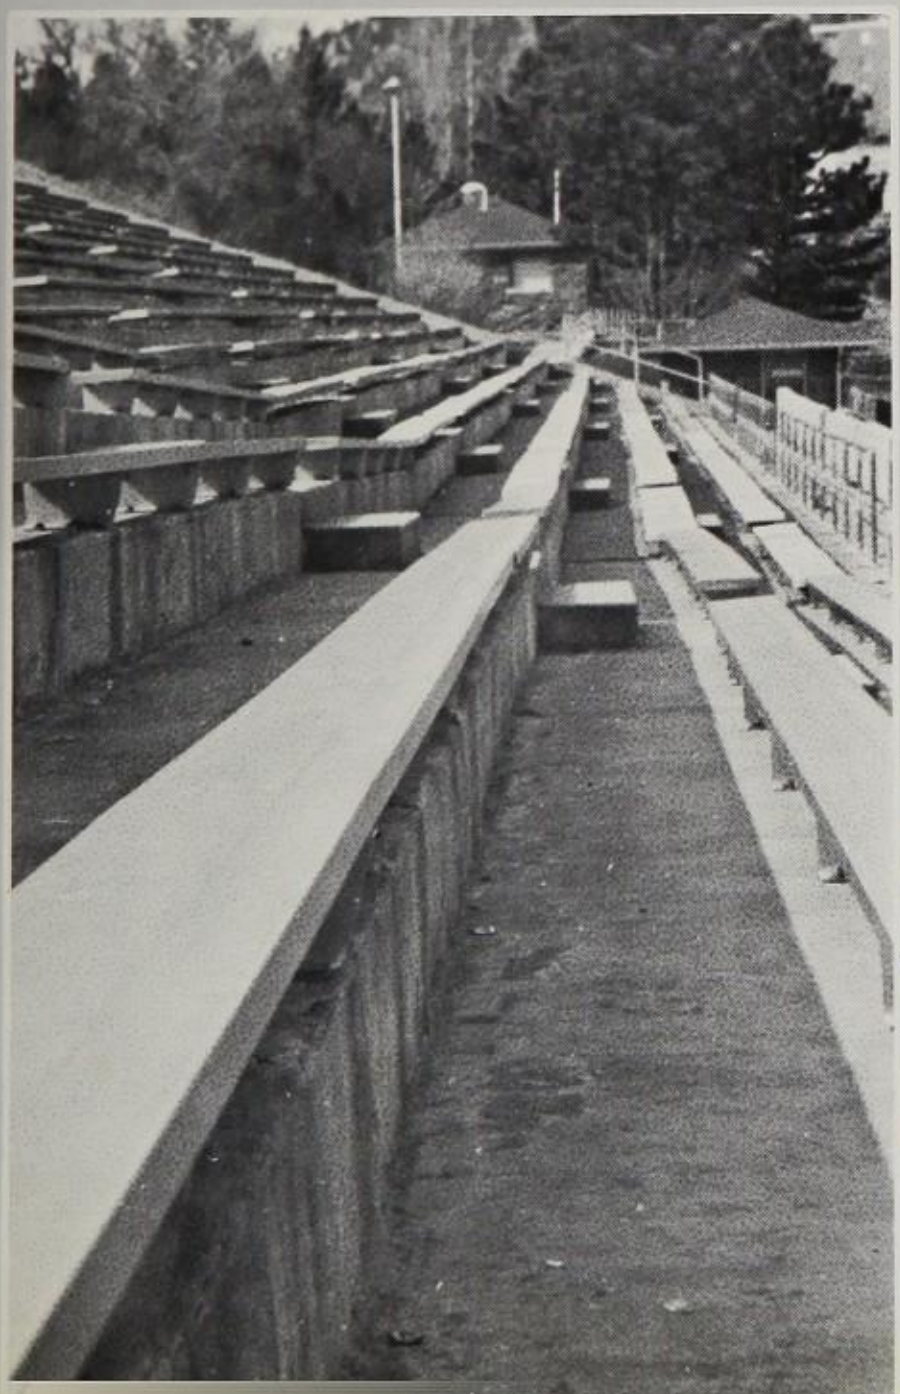
Have a good one

Robin Beeck

...logy. Write me if you can find me! You better bring me some of those Chocolate Chip bars some day next year – or maybe I'll see you at a party this summer or something & you can make me some this summer, Ok? Have a great one, and don't get too bored (like we did in Mr. Boswell's Government class) I know I won't!! Love ya,

Robin





Goodbye doesn't mean forever,
Goodbye doesn't mean we'll never be together again.
If you wake up and I'm not there
I won't be far away.

Well Renee old buddy,

It was great getting to know you this year! Ready for a little buttering up? Well, you are the prettiest, sweetest, funniest and nicest person in this school. You also have a big mouth, a great personality, and a never-ending sense of humor. Remember me always, and some day - 5 years from now - remember the letter we wrote to:

Renee
Well it been
Nice knowing you.
we have Fought A bit
but we Are still friends o
I Know your A good photographer.
I must Apologize. For being sock A SNOT
this year. I did not mean it.
I hope All your dreams come True
Luck in the future
love
Rip

When you remember me,
If you remember me.
I hope you see it's not the way
I want it to be.
For I'd be with you now
but wherever you go,
My love goes with you.

I would like to take this space to thank many of the people that have inspired, motivated and pushed me to be what I am today. I first got involved in yearbook in the ninth grade; a wonderful lady, Mrs. Gifford, started me off in my career of photography, then helped me get accepted onto the LANCE staff. Anne Hiebert (editor-in-chief '79) left an unremovable impression on me to motivate a staff and have them work with you, not against you. She also taught me many of the technical aspects of making a strong yearbook. Anne, thank you for everything you have done for me; I appreciate it. During my junior year I worked under Bruce MacIntosh (editor-in-chief '80); he gave me the chance to put into use all of the techniques I learned the previous year. Working with Bruce, I struggled through many educational and interesting problems and hassles. Many of the things I learned from these experiences not only helped me in yearbook, but went further and helped me in my everyday life.

Then, finally, it was my turn to take on the mammoth responsibility, and see if I could manage a staff and produce a quality yearbook that every student in the school would be proud of. To make a yearbook takes immence amounts of time; I started the planning stages of this book in April '80. I was campaigning for a staff and making the final decisions about the style of the book. During the summer I spent a week at a yearbook conference, learning many new techniques and improving on the ones I already had. After school started in the fall, I finally had everybody on the staff who wanted to be. We spent about a month or two learning the layout style, and how to write copy, and teaching the photographers better and faster ways to shoot and process their pictures.

Then came the actual job of going out and getting just the right blend of interesting pictures and in-depth copy. Our first deadline was before Halloween, meaning we had alot of work to do in less than ten weeks. None of the new members of our staff knew what they were getting themselves into when they wanted to be on the staff. The work was hard and intense, I demanded the absolute best out of everyone, and after many hours of doing and redoing, I believe this book reflects the time and effort that so many people contributed to it.

The first semester went by very fast; at the end of it about half of the staff needed to drop the class. This brought our number of students down to about fifteen. With only five weeks left until our final deadline, we still had more than half the pages left to do. Needless to say, we spent many a night working away, and as a staff we spent days working at school when the rest of the students were out on a day of vacation. We did, however, come very close to making our final deadline and because this is being written in late February, I, of course do not know whether this book will be delivered on time; regardless, I know you will appreciate the time we have spent making this book for you.

I have had the opportunity, being yearbook editor, to meet and work with many of the administrators of our school. These are a great group of people that run our school; they have totally backed and helped me to produce a quality yearbook. Many students feel that any administrator is personally out to get them; if every student would have the chance to see all of the hard work and dedication that just one of these people put into a day's work, they would realize how important they are to the existance of our school. Every yearbook has an adviser; for four years Polly Palmer has helped run this book. I wish the best of luck to her and the editor of next year's book; I know they will do an outstanding job.

The pressures involved in being on a yearbook staff are great; I never could have made it through without the love and support that my parents have given me. To all of my friends that have kept me sane throughout this ordeal, I would like to say thank you and I love you. I am very greatful to God for giving me this chance to express myself; I have a strong faith in God and believe that without him I could not survive. I would like to thank dearly a few of my special friends. Lisa Wanslee, you have given me that added encouragement that made me know that I could do it. Lisa, I know we will be together again. Becky Ponce, for listening to me complain for so many hours and telling me that you love me, right when I needed it most, thank you. Laurie Martin, you're so beautiful; just looking in your eyes made me want to go on. Tim Walsh, thank you for praying for me; your love for people carried me through.

If you don't know me personally, to read everyone I have to thank, you may think I am a weak person that needs to lean on his friends; this isn't true. I am a strong person that needs to lean on his friends; it is a weak person that will not lean on anybody. This book is for you; it is for everyone that appreciates the love that has been put into it.

Renée — I had a good time getting to know you, your lots of fun and always Considerate
Have a good summer and a fun Senior year.

Todd Christensen

Renee,
well what can I say, we have gone threw so much, like fighting. I am sorry about everything, you're really a beautiful girl, and don't let anyone say or tell you anything different. I guess I was dumb because a friend like you is hard to find! what ever any one ever tells you about me - plz2 don't ~~believe~~ belive it, because people don't always say what true. I hope we can always remember eachother for what we are - and stay that way... what we really are!
I Love ya -- keep in touch - 499-4596

Renee,
your such a wonderful girl & meeting you has been nice. Please call getting to know you has really been fun
Lets work out some time and Sweat together (more fun - Ha Ha
I'm sure I'll see you
this summer
but give me
a buzz sometime
499-0578
Have a good one
Love ya
Maylee

Renee,
Hi! I bet ya wish you were. Thanks for being a friend. You made math as bearable as it could be. Before I sat by you I was a little business-~~man~~ type-man. You made me a real person. Our friendship is something very special to me, even if you will be a senior next year. Most of all, thank you for being you.

Have a great summer!
Steve Pearl

Renee,
It was fun sitting next to you in Geometry. I just love Ken. Well have a great summer. And have fun being a senoir next year.
Eileen

Renee,
It was fun sitting next to you in Geometry. I just love Ken. Well have a great summer. And have fun being a senior next year.
Eileen
Igel

So it's ten years from now. Pretty interesting, huh? Psychology was fun thanks to you. It was really neat hugging you and prodding you on, making you upset - really made for some good laughs. I think you really knew all along that I loved you. Remember the time we lost you at the insane asylum place. Great stuff. I wish we could've spent more time on drugs together, analyzing what the hell is wrong with other people.

Anyway, I hope you marry Alex Lifeson and live happily ever after - seems like something you'd do. Just joking. You'll probably marry Neil Peart.

Your dearest friend and enemy,

Danilowicz Kazmierczak

P.S. -/----/---

Rene',
I think your
the most beautiful girl
Woman in the world.
I am madly in love with you! Thank for being so fun to be around!
Love always,
KC Schneider

Renée,
The year has been fun
and we'll treasure our friendship.
We'll have to get together over the summer and have some fun!!!
I can't believe that it's all over now; it went so fast. Thanks nice knowing you. Football season was pretty fun after taking all those pictures, baby. The games. Hope you have a wonderful summer. Hope Love you, everything in life goes your way. You're a really
Pete Bandetti sweet girl and deserve
P.S. call me if the best.

Renee
It was great to meet you. I hope to see you this sum-and really we can go and party!! If I don't have a great vacation and don't party to hardy! See ya
soon

Renee-
Parle vous français?
Oui, je parle français.
French, huh?! It's been fun being clandestine in Mr. Tinelli's, but the question is how much french do we really know. Have a buen vacano(?)! and stay out of Jail.
Brook

Renee
I've really enjoyed knowing ya this year.
Have a good summer
see ya next year.
T-Boyd

Renee,
what can I say? I never really got to know you ~~really~~ well (unfortunately)
But what I think about you is that you're a fun-loving, active, and great looking girl. I hope we can get to know each other better. I really do! Give me a call over the summer. Maybe we could go cruising or something fun.
You have a fantastic summer.
Greg Harris

Renee,
Didn't this year
end up a lot better than we thought it would?
I'm so glad I met you and I hope we can keep in touch
over the summer.
Have a great summer!
Love ya,

Renee,
Rock & Roll - the three commandments - of you remember these you will be blessed with health, happiness and prosperity.
It's great to know you're such a friendly, outgoing person. Have a hell of a summer (don't O.D) and we can cry together next year for the thought of another months of this hell. Love ya, Eliza

Renee,
I'm glad that I met you this year, Psychology wasn't so bad but you and your beautiful body helped the class out a lot. Good luck next year, and when you're a "senior" you have to party a lot, well have a great
summer.
